200 Probe / Ferrous

Please specify with order whether the original version or newer "C" version is required. The "C" version has a wide locking flange while the original version flange is the same diameter as the probe.

SKU LEP21/20

200 Probe / Ferrous / Angle Probe

Used for measurement of inside diameters and hard to reach areas. This probe requires one inch of head room to access the measurement area.

SKU LEP22

330 Case / Leather / Vinyl

This leather and vinyl case protects the 330 series against plant hazards and coatings while allowing the operator to view the display and operate the keypad. An integrated belt loop allows the unit to be safely carried to the job site.

SKU L330CA

330 Plastic Tip

These black plastic tips screw onto the end of the 330 series probes. They include an integrated tube guide for secure measurement of curved surfaces.

NIST Thickness Standards

Standards are provided by NIST and include the certification documents. These can be used for calibration testing of ferrous coating thickness gauges.

SKU NISTF/G

Non-Ferrous CTT Substrate

Aluminum stock used as backing material for calibration. Shims are placed on the substrate and the calibration tests are conducted. Used with the LH and LZ models.

SKU LSUB-NFE

Non-Ferrous Probe - 330C

Used for the LH and LZ330C models. Please note that these models have a wide metal locking flange. The original 330 series uses the LHP30 with flanges that have diameters equivalent to the probe diameter.

SKU LHP30C

Non-Ferrous Probe - LZ200

Please specify with order whether the original version or newer "C" version is required. The "C" version has a wide locking flange while the original version flange is the same diameter as the probe.

SKU LHP20

Non-Ferrous Probe - LZ200

Replacement probe for the LZ200C coating gauge. Used for non-ferrous substrates.

SKU LHP20C

Non-Ferrous Probe - LZ330J

Used for the LH and LZ330J models. Please note that these models have a wide metal locking flange. The original 330 series uses the LHP30 with flanges that have diameters equivalent to the probe diameter.
